MIGHTY MOZZIES MEET BLAYNEY RAGING RAMS

What better way to celebrate the Blayney Rugby Club's 60 years than a force of titans with the newly formed senior Millthorpe Mozzies at a match on the revamped Redmond Oval on Saturday 25 March.

The local community came out in droves to witness a newly formed Millthorpe Mozzies challenged by the veteran Blayney rugby team in a battle of rugby heaven.

It was the meeting of rugby forces – the mighty Millthorpe Mozzies fighting to the end with the rampaging Blayney Rams.

To the shock of the Blayney Rams, the Millthorpe Mozzies literally gave the Blayney rugby players a run for their money.

Men in all shapes and sizes came thundering down the field to compete against the might of the Blayney rugby players even with signs of sheer exhaustion in the initial warm up.

The Millthorpe Mozzies were tested on all levels of skill and most importantly endurance.

Thankfully the very capable doctoring skills of local identity Dr Joe McRae and the strapping work by Justin Johnson from Phys X came to the party to rescue some very sore bodies.

While the Millthorpe Mozzies nearly gained momentum with nearly scoring two tries, the defence of the Blayney Rugby Club players was too powerful.

Mayor of Blayney Council, Scott Ferguson enthusiastically recalled that this was an exciting event to open the Redmond Oval ground to all sorts of sporting and other activities – the day was very special.

“We all love sports but this rugby game was extremely important to the rugby community,” said Ferguson.

“This oval and the new facilities brings a new beginning and it is wonderful to see everyone embrace the two teams on an important anniversary and community environment.

“It was a magical day.”
